

Post Graduate Diploma in Packaging

Post Graduate Diploma in Packaging (PGDP) is appropriate for crisp alumni in science/designing who want to make a profession in bundling. The program includes study hall sessions by the Institute's very own and visitor workforce, with visits to businesses to think about different bundling procedures and innovations.

This course is open for all alumni in science, innovation, building and associated fields. The confirmation is through an all India level placement test directed in June consistently in all metro urban areas. Confirmation structures are accessible from the long stretch of May and the course starts in August.
